IGFP 5342. Clinical Conditions with Groups. (3 Credits)

Provides a theoretical base and group work practice skills for working with populations who have been diagnosed with a clinical condition(s). Focus on understanding how to use a strength-based, recovery oriented therapeutic group to foster the social and emotional growth that will promote optimal functioning and prevent relapse in persons with clinical conditions. Biological, behavioral, cognitive-behavioral and psychodynamic theories will be used to understand factors that contribute to clinical conditions and to develop the type of therapeutic group that responds to the social and emotional needs of the members of the group. Focus will be on diverse settings (inpatient, outpatient, prison, residential halfway houses) where clients with clinical conditions are served in open-ended and closed groups. DSM V will be used to develop diagnostic skills and understanding.

Enrollment Requirements: FED 5301; open only to M.S.W. students in the Individuals, Groups and Families concentration.

IGFP 5343. Clinical Conditions with Families. (3 Credits)

This course provides a theoretical and evidence-based perspective on engaging, involving and supporting families to meet the needs of family members with clinical conditions. Content will include assessment of and family-centered interventions for various types of clinical conditions and family interaction issues, using the DSM-5 and family-centered theories to understand family risks and resiliencies that affect clinical conditions in individuals. This course will emphasize strengths-based and family-centered approaches to ethical social work practice with families. Included in the content will be online and in-class discussions to assist students in developing knowledge of and respect for cultural differences and differences in family formations, such as single parent families, families across the life cycle, adoptive families, families affected by immigration/displacement, multi-generational families and LGBTQI + families. This course will use lectures, online discussion, small group activities and case-based approaches to learning, using a wide range of family types as part of this learning strategy.

Enrollment Requirements: FED 5301; open only to M.S.W. students in the Individuals, Groups and Families concentration. Recommended preparation: BASC 5391.
