

ENGINEERING MANAGEMENT MINOR

Refer to the School of Business section of this catalog for restrictions on Business minors and limits on the number of Business courses available to non-Business students.

Requirements

To receive a minor in Engineering Management, a student must earn a "C" or better in each of four (4) three-credit courses. Students must complete the following courses:

Course	Title	Credits
Project Management
Select one of the following:		3
OPIM 3512	Project Management for Business Data Analytics
OPIM 3603	Project Management and Planning
OPIM 5270	Introduction to Project Management
Operations and Production
Select one of the following:		3
BADM 3104	Operations Management
or OPIM 3104	Operations Management
ME 3222	Production Engineering
Managerial and Operations Topics
Select two of the following:		6
MEM 2211	Introduction to Manufacturing Systems
MEM 3221	Introduction to Products and Processes
MENT 3225	International Business
BADM 3234	Opportunity Generation, Assessment, and Promotion
or MENT 3234	Opportunity Generation, Assessment, and Promotion
BADM 3235	Venture Planning, Management, and Growth
or MENT 3235	Venture Planning, Management, and Growth
MENT 3236	Managerial Negotiations
MENT 3237	Managing Human Capital
MENT 3238	Leading Teams and Organizations
MENT 3239	Managing a Diverse Workforce
ENGR 3500	Technology Innovation and Entrepreneurship
or MENT 3500	Technology Innovation and Entrepreneurship
ENGR 3501	Technology Innovation and Entrepreneurship II
or MENT 3501	Technology Innovation and Entrepreneurship II
Total Credits		12

The minor is offered by the School of Business and College of Engineering. Management and Engineering for Manufacturing Majors cannot earn this minor. School of Business Majors cannot earn this minor.

For more information and to declare the minor, contact the Undergraduate Programs Office in the School of Business. Access to courses for this minor is on a space available basis, and the School of Business cannot guarantee completion of this minor. Students may require departmental permission to register for courses in the minor.